VIVID INDUSTRIAL WINS ANOTHER MAJOR DISTRIBUTION CENTRE DEAL

- Vivid Industrial wins lighting upgrade order at an ASX20 company's major regional distribution centre
- Order follows successful outcome of initial trial
- Trial completed over 3 months with Vivid Industrial producing savings of >70% over the incumbent system, whilst simultaneously improving light levels by >50%
- Discussions underway with customer on additional opportunities

Greenearth Energy Ltd's (ASX: GER) ("Greenearth") wholly-owned subsidiary, Vivid Industrial, has secured a lighting upgrade opportunity from a leading Australian ASX20 company after winning a competitive trial. The system will be installed in the next quarter.

In keeping with Vivid Industrial's policy on customer engagement, the name of the customer and contract size will remain confidential.

Vivid delivered savings of greater than 70% on the prior lightings baseline energy consumption, whilst importantly delivering an increased light level of over 50%. The facility is over 120,000m² (1.3 million square feet) of ambient and refrigerated warehousing and associated areas, with Vivid Industrial commencing installing lighting systems across ~40 tunnels within the 'picking and packing areas'.

Vivid Industrial's proprietary system enabled rapid deployment providing up to 80% reduction in the installation costs for the electrical contractor and providing subsequent ongoing maintenance cost savings for the corporate.

Data collected during the initial trial demonstrated a close correlation to Vivid Industrial's lighting design, budgeted quotes and predicted system performance. The results confirm that the methodology, assumptions and photometric data applied in Vivid Industrial's engineered solutions are accurate, reliable and forecastable.

Samuel Marks, Managing Director of Greennearth Energy, said:

"This was a competitive trial which resulted in an initial order and the opportunity of further expansion across the company's substantial portfolio of properties. It is extremely pleasing to see this confirmation of Vivid Industrial's world leading capabilities. We look forward to providing updates on additional system roll outs in the near term."
